It is located in the Himalayas and bordered to the north by People's Republic of China and to the south, east and west by the Republic of India. Nepal is separated from Bangladesh by the narrow Indian Siliguri corridor. Kathmandu is the nation's Capital and largest metropolis.

Kathmandu (The Central Capital)

The old city of Kathmandu is located on a bluff at the confluence of the Bagmati and Vishnumati Rivers – an easily defended site with rich soil and a plentiful water supply. The historical places Kathmandu, Bhaktapur and Patan Durbar Square are located in the valley. Other world's heritage places like Swambhunath, Pashupatinath, Changunarayan and Bouddhanath also located in the valley. Some old traditional cultures are most attract for Tourist and foreigner.

Pokhara (The Tourism Capital)

Pokhara is a valley which is surrounded by beautiful, amazing and silent Himalayas in the North and mountains. Pokhara, known as the city of lakes, is decorated by natural lakes and rivers. As Nepal is a religious country. Pokhara has its own religious norms and values.

Janakpur (The Historical Place)

Janakpur is a sub-metropolitan city in Dhanusa District of Province No. 2 of Nepal. The city is a centre for religious and cultural tourism. It has been declared as the temporary capital for Province no. 2 until Province Assembly votes for a permanent capital.

This city, also known as Janakpurdham, was founded in the early 18th century. According to oral tradition, an earlier city existed in the area, also known as Janakpurdham, which was the capital of the Videha dynasty that ruled Mithila region in the ancient times. Nepal Railways used to operate between Janakpur and India.
